

AMPO Board Slate – 2021-2023 Term

GREG STUART, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, BROWARD MPO, FL (REELECTION)

Gregory Stuart, Executive Director, is the chief executive officer of the Broward Metropolitan Planning Organization (Southeast Florida) and is responsible for all the functions under the direction of the Broward Metropolitan Planning Organization Board of Directors. He focuses on creating new partnerships while expanding existing partnerships. Gregory is vice-chair of the statewide Metropolitan Planning Organization Advisory Council, chair of the statewide Freight Committee and serves on the national Association of Metropolitan Planning Organizations Policy Committee. Greg brings over 27 years of experience working in both the public and private sector. His public-sector experience includes progressively responsible management at the municipal, county and state levels. Greg has focused on land use, transportation and environmental planning. He has secured millions Federal appropriations for major transportation projects, modified state rules to facilitate traffic mitigation, stimulated redevelopment efforts and helped implement a dynamic water reuse project. Greg's private sector experience includes component manufacturing, logistics, zoning and land use.

ERIN ALEMAN, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, CHICAGO METROPOLITAN AGENCY FOR PLANNING, IL

Erin Aleman is executive director of the Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning (CMAP). Previously, she served as vice president of Metro Strategies, a policy and advocacy consulting firm, and was the director of the office of planning and programming at the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT). At IDOT, Aleman provided strategic guidance, implemented performance-based tools, created the state's first Asset Management Plan, and was responsible for developing multimodal policy initiatives. She began her career at CMAP after graduate school in 2007 as the agency's Phillip D. Peters Regional Planning Fellow and rose to become principal planner in 2011. Aleman has a master's degree in urban planning.

ERIC ANDERSON, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, MARICOPA ASSOCIATION OF GOVERNMENTS, AZ

Eric Anderson is the Executive Director of the Maricopa Association of Governments (MAG). MAG is the designated metropolitan planning organization (MPO) for the Phoenix metro area and is also a Council of Governments (COG). Before becoming Executive Director in 2018, Eric was the Transportation Director for MAG for almost 20 years. Before joining MAG, Mr. Anderson was a consultant concentrating in the areas of urban growth, economic development, public policy, and fiscal impact analysis. One of his important accomplishments was the restoration of the financial integrity of the MAG Regional Freeway Program during the 1990s that resulted in one of the largest metropolitan highway construction programs in the country. Mr. Anderson also served as the Executive Director of the Maricopa County Stadium District, a role in which he led the negotiations for stadium for the Arizona Diamondbacks, and served as the interim Chief Executive Officer for the Regional Public Transportation Authority during the search for the agency's new CEO. Mr. Anderson is member of the Urban Land Institute Arizona Advisory Board, Lambda Alpha International, and the board of directors of the Arizona Transit Association. Mr. Anderson holds a M.S. in Economics from Arizona State University.

REESE BREWER, MPO DIRECTOR, FRONTIER MPO, AR

Reese acts as the transportation director of the Frontier Metropolitan Planning Organization for the Fort Smith area. She successfully led efforts to implement bike share, integrate health into the design of transportation infrastructure, and ensure communities in the region have improved access to local parks. In addition, she wrote and received the inaugural Parsons Smart Cities Transforming Intersection Challenge on behalf of the City of Fort Smith and the Arkansas Department of Transportation. She has served on the Eno Center for Transportation's Freight Funding and Finance group and was a contributor to the Eno Center for Transportation paper, "Delivering the Goods: Recommendations for Funding a Federal Freight Program, along with serving on Transportation Research Board Committees. While the focus of her work is in transportation planning and freight infrastructure, Reese received her Master of Science in Intermodal Transportation Management from the University of Denver, obtained certificates from the University of Maryland Senior Management Operations Academy, I-95 Corridor Coalition Freight Academy, and attended the Florida Coastal School of Law studying Transportation Law & Policy.

MATT JOHNS, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, RAPIDES AREA PLANNING COMMISSION, LA

Matt has 14 years of planning experience between the Rapides Area Planning Commission and the Louisiana DOTD. He is currently the Executive Director of the Rapides Area Planning Commission, the President of the Louisiana Planning Council, and on the board of directors for the Louisiana Transportation Authority as well as the Louisiana Community Development Authority. He also serves as a policy committee member of AMPO and was recently appointed to the Standing Committee on Transportation Planning for Small and Medium-Sized Communities of TRB. Matt has a bachelor's degree in Public Administration from Louisiana College and obtained his professional planning certification from the American Institute of Certified Planners. Matt is married with two children and two dogs and is proud to call central Louisiana home.

JIM WILD, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, EAST-WEST GATEWAY COUNCIL OF GOVERNMENTS, MO/IL

Jim Wild is the Executive Director of the East-West Gateway Council of Governments, the Metropolitan Planning Organization for St. Louis, which represents the 2.6 million residents of the city of St. Louis and the surrounding seven counties in Illinois and Missouri. Jim started at East-West Gateway in 1993 as a transportation analyst and held a variety of positions before his appointment as executive director in 2015. During his 27 years at East-West Gateway, Jim's primary responsibilities have included overseeing the council's freight, intelligent transportation systems, bicycle/pedestrian, paratransit, and transportation safety programs as well as development and implementation of the Regional Transportation Plan and the Transportation Improvement Program. In addition to transportation, East-West Gateway developed OneSTL, the region's sustainability plan, provides local government, research and environmental services and through its St. Louis Area Regional Response System coordinates planning and response for large-scale critical incidents. Before coming to St. Louis, Jim worked at Tri-County Regional Planning Commission, the MPO for Peoria, IL. Jim received his Bachelor of Science in Community and Regional Planning from Iowa State University. Jim has participated on various AMPO working groups and efforts over the years and is currently serving on the AMPO Policy Committee.